MYSTERY FROM SOUTH OF THE BORDER

Last month's presentation took us to Canada, so this month's talk will take us to the warmer climes of México!

The battle of the Monte de las Cruces was an early skirmish in the long Mexican War for Independence. The medal illustrated on the front cover is a commemoration of the victory of the insurgent forces against Spanish troops in 1810.

Join us on miércoles, 24 febrero, as Ricardo de León Tallavas reveals the secrets behind his tantalizing subtitle, "A Lie in a Medal."

So gather your deceptive medals, untrustworthy tokens, revolutionary so-called dollars, or any recent acquisitions, photograph them for sharing, and join us online!

JANUARY MEETING RECAP

The PCNS membership enthusiastically renewed the honorary memberships of two long-time members who have been of great service to the Society: Rebecca "Becky" Cieniewicz and Ruth Phillips.

PCNS Member Dean Neald talked about a bread token from the Star Provision Co Ltd. It was a convoluted story of a previously unknown merchant token from Regina, Saskatchewan. Dean had never heard of the company, and the token, slightly larger than a Canadian quarter, was a cheap 'junk box' purchase from a coin dealer. It was not listed in any standard reference of Canadian tokens.

A single line in a 1917 Canadian War Purchasing Commission book noted the Star Provision Company. With a bit more digging, Dean found the 1907 papers whereby Star Groceries was re-incorporated as Star Provisions Company, Ltd (Ltd in the equivalent of LLC in the US, standing for a limited liability corporation). The incorporation papers listed the original owners of Star Groceries augmented by a baker. There were a lot of advertisements from various directories in 1908.

Dean then found paperwork indicating that the Star Provisions Company Ltd dissolved in 1909, becoming the Star Provisions Company as shown in the 1917 book. Star continued in business into the 1940's, when it reverted to the original name Star Groceries.

Dean concluded that the token most likely dates from 1908 while Star was still

'Ltd'. Dean further explained the use of the token for bread, and how the building where the store was located has been preserved as of December 2020.

You can see Dean's presentation on the PCNS YouTube channel.

JANUARY MEMBER EXHIBITS

Federico: A silver 1939 Mexican medal from the XXVIII Congreso de Americanistas (Congress of the Americas), which meets every few years in Europe and the Americas.

Michael: A silver 1810-1910 100th Anniversary of Chilean Independence medal, made by Lalique.

Bob: An unlisted So-Called Dollar HK-611a. The HK-611 is the 1887 New Haven CT Soldiers Monument medal. The monument is in the middle of a park and represents several wars (Revolutionary, Civil, etc.). Bob's example has distinct differences on both the obverse and reverse, and a wreath design suggests it was made in Philadelphia.

Erik: A number of Swiss Cantonal and Federal coins, and Swiss proof and mint sets that include a denomination not released into circulation.

Bill: Bakery tokens from Santa Cruz and Santa Barbara.
