Minutes of the PCNS BBQ/Meeting of June 24, 2017

Status — Approved at the July 26th 2017 Board Meeting

BBQ Event/Meeting

The BBQ was attended by the Hyders, Hipple, and Hustons, along with individual members, Mark Clark, Chris Donaldson, Don Hill, Jason Macario, Herb Miles, Bob Somers, Ed Treuting, Michael Turrini, and his guest Lloyd Chan. We had regrets from Jerry Schimmel, who had planned to come but chose to conserve his strength to avoid a hospital visit. In total, we were 15 strong, and well fed due to the efforts of the Hipple and the many members who brought desserts, of which there was no shortage this year.

When we got down to a few minutes of business after the first serving, President Hyder suggested tabling the ANA Ballot because the only candidate with links to our Society (a former member) is running unopposed. Those present supported this official inaction.

Vice President Dan Hipple reported the results of the 2017 PCNS Papers. There were 6 papers submitted, and judging scores indicated the high quality of the overall submissions. The top three authors were:

1. Michael Wehner
2. Jerry Schimmel
3. William Hyder

Due to final judging results arriving in the final week, their award medals will be engraved for presentation at the July meeting. Dan expressed his thanks to the four judges as well as to the six writers, which also included: Mark Benvenuto, Federico Castillo, and Stephen Huston.

Herb held a drawing for 5 door prizes of various coins and medals.

Members Exhibits: Michael Turrini brought a large binder containing his PCNS collection of medals and exnumia. Don Hill passed out 2017-P mintmarked cents to each attendee, noting that there was no advance announcement that the 2017 cents of Philadelphia would show the mintmark, so he had to scramble a bit to acquire them. (Dan later brought out a selection of Swiss Shooting Thalers for viewing.)

The business at an end, we talked and nibbled for the rest of the afternoon.
